All use of AI must comply with applicable legal and regulatory standards and must prioritize safety and trust. Misrepresenting or attempting to pass off AI-generated content as wholly original human work constitutes a breach of ethical standards and is strictly prohibited. Teams are expected to exercise sound professional judgment in their use of AI and must clearly disclose and document any material reliance on AI tools within their research.

RULE 10: GENERAL PROVISIONS

10.1 Conflict of Interest

All participants in the Challenge, including hosts, teams, team members, faculty advisors and judges have an obligation to avoid actual or potential conflicts of interest with their participation. A conflict of interest is any matter that could reasonably be expected to impair an individual's independence and objectivity or interfere with an individual's duties.

A conflict may be actual or perceived. As an example, a conflict of interest may exist when a participant or a participant's family member or close friend is involved in activities that affect the participant's ability to perform his or her role fairly and impartially, but conflicts of interest can arise even without a personal relationship.

To avoid any actual or perceived conflicts of interest, each participant, faculty advisor and/or judge must disclose to CFAS in writing any potential conflicts, including but not limited to any close personal or professional relationships with team members, judges or faculty advisors.

CFAS will investigate any disclosures of actual or potential conflicts of interest. If a conflict of interest is found to exist and cannot be reasonably and timely settled, the individual with the conflict of interest will be disqualified from participation.

If CFAS determines that it is necessary to protect the integrity of the competition, CFAS may disqualify a team from the competition if any team member or faculty advisor is found to have a conflict of interest that is incapable of being reasonably and timely settled.

The decision of CFAS regarding the existence of a conflict of interest and its determination regarding the disqualification of any individual or team are final and binding.

10.2 Plagiarism

Plagiarism is prohibited. Plagiarism is defined as copying or using in substantially the same form materials prepared by others without acknowledging the source of the material or identifying the author and publisher of such material. Sourced information should be properly cited using a generally accepted citation system.

Teams found guilty of plagiarism will be disqualified. The team's university may also be ineligible to participate in the following year's competition. The decision of CFAS regarding plagiarism is final and binding.

10.3 Intellectual Property

Presentation materials must not infringe the intellectual property rights of any third party. Each student represents and warrants that appropriate acknowledgement has been given and consent has been obtained for quotes or extracts from other sources and that, except as noted, all presentation materials are original and their use and publication by CFAS will not expose CFAS to any claim or liability for breach of confidence or copyright. CFAS reserves the right to assess all presentation materials for content that potentially infringes on any third party's intellectual property rights and may disqualify any team that submits such content.

Each student grants CFAS a non-exclusive, sub-licensable right to produce, reproduce and publish materials created by the student as part of the Challenge. CFAS is authorized to make minor revisions to such materials that it may deem necessary, in its sole discretion, for the purpose of such publication. Each student further agrees to waive any associated moral rights that she or he may have in respect of such materials.

10.4 By participating in the Challenge, each student grants CFAS the sub-licensable right to print, publish, broadcast and use worldwide in all media without limitation at any time a student's full name, portrait, and/or biographical information for the purpose of promoting the Challenge.

10.5 Any disagreements about matters related to the Challenge shall be determined by CFAS in its sole discretion, and such decision will be final. In the event of a dispute regarding prize recipients, CFAS reserves the right to award or not award the prizes in its sole discretion. CFAS reserves the right to disqualify any student whose participation or conduct appears in any way to: inhibit the enjoyment of others; tamper with the Challenge; violate these rules or any other applicable law or regulation; infringe on the rights of third parties; or act in an unsportsmanlike or disruptive manner.

10.6 If for any reason the Challenge is not capable of running as planned, CFAS reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to cancel, terminate, modify, or suspend the Challenge. If CFAS elects to cancel or terminate the Challenge, CFAS will not retain any rights in any submitted materials.

10.7 By entering into the Challenge, each student and faculty advisor/professor agrees to be bound by these rules and the decisions of CFAS and/or the judges, which shall be final on all matters related to the Challenge. CFAS and/or the judges may modify these rules and create and enforce such other rules and measures as may be deemed advisable for the orderly conduct, quality, integrity and reputation of the Challenge or to correct deficiencies in the Challenge. Modifications shall not violate the spirit of these rules or the best interests of the Challenge. Failure by CFAS to enforce any provision of these rules shall not constitute a waiver of that provision.

10.8 The Challenge is subject to all applicable laws and regulations in Singapore.
